Made of up four celestial parts, its members have a long history of playing in various bands in the music scene.

Nathan sang with alternative-rock band Calcutta for over a decade and toured the world, showcasing in the Warped Tour and recording three albums. He plays multiple instruments, but his passion is vocals.

Scott started in Wood Floor Creek, a folksy blues band and cut an album, and then moved on to play with various bands as a gun for hire.

Jeff is a jack-of-all-trades musician, mastering trumpet and piano, and settled in as a drummer, recording with various bands, and playing in Los Angeles-based, 70s-rock band Peacock.

Mike began as a teen in the hardcore punk band X-O Toxins. They were legendary in the L.A. punk scene for riotous backyard parties throughout San Gabriel Valley. Over the years, he played in several bands, and then took a hiatus from music...

Somehow, in blind cosmic middle age, they found each other, and started Bloody Love Affair.

Their influences embrace early rock n’ roll (Chuck Berry, Roy Orbison) and punk (X, Black Flag, Husker Du), grunge (Dinosaur Jr., Local H) and alternative (Pixies, Sonic Youth), drawing blood from all corners of the musical universe.

Crafting original music based on the principles of sci-fi/horror love songs, Bloody Love Affair is ready to rock the world... and beyond!
